THE LATEST FOREIGN NEWS.

The French Will Take Tonquin—Anarchy in Ecuador—Bismarck Sick—Kelly to Be Hanged.

PARIS, May 10.—Conrad to-day informed the committee of the Chamber of Deputies on the Tonquin expedition that 4,000 Annamite or Chinese troops attacked Ha Noe, the capital of Tonquin, March 20, but were repulsed by the French. He also stated that Captain Kergardec bears a letter from President Grevy informing the King of Annam that his inability to assure the security of Tonquin compels France to establish herself definitely there. The letter advises the King not to resist, and invites him to recognize the protectorate of France and guarantees the integrity of the Dominions.

Conrad added that the French would collect taxes in Annam and install officials devoted to France. The occupation of Delta, he said, would lead to the possession of the whole province. The committee then adopted a report in favor of the credit proposed by the Government for the expedition. The reinforcement for Tonquin includes three batteries of mountain artillery. It is reported that 2,000 Chinese troops have been dispatched in the direction of Tonquin.

GUAYAQUIL, May 10.—National affairs in Ecuador are critical. Business is suspended in Guayaquil, and the streets are held by armed troops. Cable communication is not interfered with, as both parties recognize the importance of not molesting an American company.

PANAMA, May 10.—The Ecuadorian Government yesterday entered the Bank of Ecuador, Guayaquil, notwithstanding the protests of the consuls and the captains of the English and Italian ships, broke the safes open, and took $320,000. The rebels are close to the city.

BERLIN, May 10.—The Count Von Moltke has arrived at Rome.

Further arrests in Armenia of alleged members of the secret societies include a number of priests. The editor of the Armenian Review, published at Constantinople, has been sentenced to imprisonment for life for printing disloyal articles.

The motion recently offered in the Prussian Reichstag by the member from Strasburg, for the abolition of a dictatorship in Alsace-Lorraine has provoked comments in the French press which are calculated to cause irritation in Germany.

The health of Bismarck is again unsatisfactory.

DUBLIN, May 10.—The third trial of Timothy Kelly, charged with participation in the murder of Cavendish and Burke, was concluded to-day. The jury found a verdict of guilty against the prisoner, and he was sentenced to be hanged. The jury deliberated an hour. Kelly will be hanged June 9. Being removed, Kelly exclaimed: "I am innocent, thank you, my lord." He thanked the counsel for their exertions in his behalf, and hoped they might live long to defend the innocent.

The usual excursions made from Dublin on Whit Monday will be abandoned this year, as the execution of Joe Brady is to take place on that day.

Latest From Over the Sea.

PARIS, May 10.—An explosion occurred this afternoon in the cartridge factory at Bizagon, destroying the building and killing and wounding a number of employes. Five persons have thus far died, and the injuries of several others will probably result fatally.

PARIS, May 10.—The situation in Cochinchina, has become embarrassing alike to France and China, and a declaration of war and probable complete occupation by the French of the Tonquin peninsula seem to be the only present result possible. Latest advices announce the departure of over 2,000 additional troops from China for the scene of the trouble, the attack on Hanoi of 4,000 Chinese troops and the presentation of the French ultimatum to the Emperor Tuncu.

General Preppoff has refused the direction of the police. A large number of arrests of Nihilists has been made, among which are several military officers.

BRUSSELS, May 10.—Phillipart, the Belgian financier who was recently extradited from France on a charge of forgery, has written a letter to the Public Prosecutor declaring that if he is kept in prison beyond the present week all the companies of which he has direction will be ruined.

The Kentucky Flyers.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 10.—Yesterday the Fair Association trotting meeting had a bright day, a good track, and a fine attendance. The first race was the 2:25 class for $700, and was won by Atta; time, 2:20. The second, 2:20 class, pacers, won by Richball; time, 2:21. The third was unfinished.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 10.—Yesterday the opening day of the spring races began with everything favorable. Not only the weather, but the track was fast, and the flyers were in fine condition. The attendance was certainly encouraging, and the prospects are that it will continue in the same way to the end of the meeting.

The first race to-day was a three quarter of a mile dash for a purse of $150, and was won by Vanguard. Time, 1:17. The second race was for one and a quarter miles, won by Bondholder against several starters. Time, 2:08.

Floods of Burning Oil.

New Jersey Oil Tanks Struck By Lightning.

The Fire Departments Powerless—Several Lives Lost—Damage Will Reach Into the Millions.

NEW YORK, May 10.—During the electrical storm which took place this morning a flash of lightning struck one of the storage tanks of the Standard Oil Company's works at Bayonne, N. J. It is supposed that several lighters which were used by the company for transportation purposes and which were anchored near the shore were also burned. The damage is roughly estimated at $1,500,000. The works, however, are so located that the loss may amount to much less or may reach $4,000,000 or $5,000,000.

The fire is now eating its way across back of the New Jersey Central towards ten large tanks, said to hold 150,000 barrels of oil. Great danger to shipping is anticipated from the change in the wind, which might cause the burning oil to escape to the waters in the bay, carrying destruction to vessels in the neighborhood.

Two watchmen employed in the yard escaped injury, but immediately after the fire broke out a crowd of men and boys was seen in among the tanks, and it could not be ascertained whether all escaped or not.

JERSEY CITY, 11:30 A. M.—The oil fire is still raging. The Eagle refinery is in danger. If the winds continue southeast the remaining buildings may be saved. Six lives have been lost.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 10.—1 P. M.—The works of the Standard Oil Company, at Communipaw, the most extensive in this country, are on fire, and about one-half the property is now destroyed.

The fire started during a severe storm this morning. One of the large tanks near the shore was struck and exploded by lightning. The burning oil poured out like an angry river and flowed down the avenue between rows of enormous tanks toward the river.

In a short time the flames communicated with three huge tanks, and they exploded simultaneously with terrific force. Fragments of iron were hurled a distance of half a mile, and burning oil was scattered in all directions.

The entire fire department was summoned, but their services were almost useless, as the burning stream of oil poured through the yard firing tank after tank on the east side and licking up the buildings.

The storehouse, a solid structure where barreled oil was kept, was attacked by the flames and succumbed. An engine-house went next and oil and water-pump houses, sunken tanks and machine shops quickly followed, and the whole easterly side of the works was a seething mass of flames.

STILL ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

JERSEY CITY, May 10.—The shaft of lightning of unequalled brilliancy and brightness that struck the first tank was seen by firemen of Engine No. 10, in Halliday street, Jersey City, a mile away, and the engine at once started for the scene. It was soon discovered to be useless work to play upon the flames, and all efforts were directed to prevent them from spreading.

This was partially successful until nearly 5 o'clock, when tank No. 7 exploded with a terrific report, and the blazing oil spread with lightning rapidity. Chief Ferrier and a number of men were within ten yards of this tank when it exploded, and were saved almost by a miracle.

Dropping the hose, which was soon burned to ashes, they fled for their lives. When they mustered together at a safe distance six of their number were found missing.

The smoke was so dense that it was impossible to tell which way one was going, and it is thought that the unfortunate men ran down to the river and were lost. Their names are: John Herbert, Superintendent; Joseph Jenkins, foreman cooper; George Davis, engineer; Henry Kegler, laborer; Dick Conklin, laborer; William Curry boiler-maker.

Waves of flaming oil had rolled in upon the engine house, carpenter shops, machine shops, boiler and pump room, two warehouses, cooper shops and blacksmith shops, and they were a heap of ruins in an hour. Tank after tank was caught by the flames until seven out of twenty-six on the ground were blazing. The tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad also caught fire and several rolling tanks on the rails were only saved by having earth piled on top of them.

The bay was a sheet of flaming oil, and the long trestle bridge of railway, about a quarter of a mile long, running from the works to Black Tom's Island, was also burned down to the water's edge.

At the boarding house of the Eagle Refinery, close by, the scene was painful in the extreme. Newly made widows congregated in one of the rooms, hope and despair alternating in their distracted minds, and lamenting the terrible fate of the loved ones from whom they had parted but a few hours before.

No bodies have been found, for the heat renders a close approach to the ruins impossible. The burning works extend, with the Eagle refinery, about three-quarters of a mile along the bay and about a quarter of a mile inland. The buildings that have been destroyed were situated in the midst of tanks. The wind is southeast, blowing off the sea, and therefore there is no danger of other tanks exploding. Had the wind been northerly, the boarding house and Eagle works would certainly have perished also.

Destroyed by Fire.

A fire at Trenton, N. J., in the building known as the Mansion House, destroyed property valued at $20,000.

P. C. Grimes & Co.'s planing and saw mill at Vermontville, Mich., was burned. Loss, $5,000; uninsured. A man named Grimes and Cassius Ide, of Hastings, were burned to death in the mill.

John Beggs' distillery, Shelbyville, Ind., was partially destroyed by fire. Loss, $40,000 to $50,000; insurance, $15,000 to $20,000. The store-room, pen cribs and cattle were all saved.

The building on First Avenue, South Minneapolis, occupied by Dr. Mayner as a manufactory of patent medicines, burned Tuesday night. Loss on building and stock, $30,000; insurance, $14,000. Parties occupying the fourth story as a residence narrowly escaped with their lives.

BOSTON, May 10.—The store of T. Remick & Co., dealers in cotton waste, &c., was damaged by fire. Loss, $16,000.

RULED BY VIGILANTES.

Dodge City, Kan., in the Hands of a Mob.

ST. LOUIS, May 10.—A Post-Dispatch special from Kansas City says that for the past ten days a remarkably startling state of affairs has existed at Dodge City, Kan., and all mention thereof has been kept quiet. Several prominent Kansas City attorneys left to-day for Topeka to petition Governor Glick to place the town under martial law. The difficulty is the culmination of a long-standing feud between two elements of that place. Dodge City has long enjoyed the reputation of being a hard place. It is one of the few points in Kansas where saloons are run openly, and gambling is legitimized. It is the headquarters of the cowboys and cattle men of that vicinity.

Before the last city election the Mayor was a man named Webster, proprietor of a live, half saloon and half gambling house and variety hall. He was a representative of the lower element of the sporting fraternity. The head of the other faction was W. H. Harris. This element was quieter, but there was a bitter feeling between the two. At the election for Mayor, Harris was beaten, and Degue, Webster's candidate, elected. Since then it has been conceded that Harris will be driven out. About ten days ago a man named Short, who is a partisan of Harris and a police officer, had a shooting affair, but neither one was hurt. Short was thrown into jail, although the evidence showed that he was fired at first. Later the gamblers were arrested and jailed.

That night a vigilance committee was armed, with Tom Nixon, proprietor of one of the hardest dance houses in the West, at its head. The crowd repaired to the jail, and notified the prisoners that they must leave town the next morning. Meantime the vigilantes took possession of the town. Correspondents of newspapers were notified that they must not send telegrams. A body of armed men watched the arrival of each train to see that there was no interference. A lawyer from Larned, sent for by one of the prisoners, was met by a vigilante, who leveled a gun at his head and told him not to stop. The next morning the five gamblers were put on a westward bound train and Short left for Kansas City, where he is now. Dodge City is practically in the hands of vigilantes, and the situation is the more serious from the fact that the Mayor is acting with them. It was he who notified the prisoners that they must go. The trains are still watched and armed men guard the town, while a list of others who will be ordered out has been prepared. Dodge is in the hands of desperadoes, and the lives and property of citizens are not safe. Serious trouble is apprehended.

Elevated Railway Collision.

NEW YORK, May 10.—A bad collision occurred to-day on the Third Avenue Elevated railroad between the extra and regular trains at the switch station, between Sixty-ninth and Seventieth streets. The trains came together with great force, and the crash brought the occupants of the neighboring houses to the doors and windows. Fireman James R. Harring was severely injured, horses on the street below were scalded, and the engines badly smashed.

An Ex-Speaker Charged With Forgery.

NEWARK, N. J., May 10.—Ex-Speaker of the Assembly John Egan, of Elizabeth, was lodged in the Essex County Jail last night, having been arrested on an indictment by the grand jury charged with an attempt to bribe Assemblyman Armistage, of this city, during the session of the New Jersey Legislature.

Thompson Murder Trial.

Mrs. Phil. Thompson Tells What She Knows of Miss Buckner.

It Will Be a Famous Trial—A Great Array of Counsel and an Energetic Prosecution Probable.

HARRDSBURG, Ky., May 10.—Sheriff Davis Bisselt was ordered by the court to summon 125 jurymen, and he and his deputies were kept busy till court assembled yesterday morning, and selected men from all parts of the county. At the outset counsel for the prosecution had raised the question of bail, wanting the accused to be remanded to jail, denying the right of Judge Hardin to allow bail for such an offense in the first place, and bitterly opposed Thompson's standing on bail during the trial. This interesting point, after argument by counsel, was overruled, and the defendant was allowed to stand upon his bond.

It is evident that this will be a famous trial. Little Phil, the accused, sits in the midst of his counsel, Senator Voorhees, of Indiana; Gen. Dan Lindsay of Frankfort; Congressman Joe C. S. Blackburn, his bosom friend; Col. R. P. Jacobs, of Danville, Ky., and Capt. C. B. Thompson, his father; John B. Thompson, his brother, and T. C. Bell and Judge Jno. G. Kyle, of Harrodsburg, Ky.

On the other side sits "Crit" Davis, the noted turfman, brother of deceased, and Colonel R. T. Latham and Captain Wm. Campbell, brothers-in-law of the late Walter H. Davis, who are in close consultation with their attorneys; Lieutenant Governor Contrill, Hon. George W. Denney, late Commonwealth's Attorney in the Boyle and Garrard Districts; Speaker Owens, of Georgetown; Morton, of Lexington, and E. H. Gaither, are assisting Commonwealth's Attorney, Finley Shuck, of Lebanon.

Mrs. Thompson stated, in substance to a reporter, "that she preferred not to add to what she had already said for publication, lest she might say something that would injure Phil. She said she had been greatly abused and mistreated and slandered; that had her husband only met and listened to her the trouble could have been avoided; that she could easily have satisfied him of her innocence, and, of the false reports concerning Davis and herself. She said that her husband was misled and deceived by Miss Jessie Buckner and Mr. Roth, proprietor of the St. Clair Hotel, in Cincinnati, and the killing of Davis was the execution of a wicked plot of Miss Buckner's; that if Phil had only listened to my pleading letters for a consultation (not that she intended to endeavor to persuade him to return to her as his wife), but just simply to give her an opportunity of establishing her entire innocence, Davis would not have fallen by his hands, but rather the character of Miss Buckner would have appeared to him in its true light." Mrs. Thompson intimates that she knows a great deal that would go far toward destroying the evidence of Miss Buckner, but forbears to talk about it, for the reason above stated, further than saying that for her reputation in Cincinnati was not of the most enviable kind, for she had been turned out of several hotels, under circumstances not flattering; and that while here in Harrodsburg last January or February, on a visit, the proprietor of the St. Clair, Mr. Roth, wrote her that when she returned to Cincinnati she must look for another boarding house. That that began yesterday.

THE CROP OUTLOOK.

The Estimates for May in Indiana and Illinois.

CHICAGO, May 10.—The Farmer's review of the crop reports for the week ending May 5, embracing all the Northwestern States, shows that both winter and spring wheats have made not to exceed one-half the growth usual at this season. The stand is thin, but shows improvement over two weeks ago. The cool weather has been unfavorable for the development of insect life, and but few, if any, depredations of the kind are reported. The increased area sown to spring wheat will not more than make up for the diminished area in the older states. Corn planting is well advanced in Kansas, Nebraska, Southern Iowa, and Illinois, and is so far favorable. Reports of the condition of fruit are more favorable than was anticipated a few weeks ago.

ILLINOIS WINTER WHEAT.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., May 10.—The Illinois Department of Agriculture has just completed a report covering 1,600 townships in the state, from which an estimate is made that the crop of winter wheat will not exceed 40 per cent. of the crop of 1882.

INDIANA PROSPECTS.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 10.—The crop reports to the Indiana Farmer, gathered from every county in the State, show the following averages for April: North Division—Wheat, per cent. of condition, 70; corn, per cent. planted and to be planted, 100; clover, per cent. of condition, 97; timothy, per cent. of condition, 99; peach buds, per cent. alive, 30; apple buds, per cent. alive, 88.

Central Division—Wheat 70, corn 100, clover 38, timothy 95, peaches 21, apples 77.

Southern Division—Wheat 76, corn 97, clover 89, timothy 95, peaches 70, apples 80.

The reports also received from Ohio and Illinois show the relative conditions: Wheat—Indiana 72, Illinois 73, Ohio 71. Corn—Indiana 99, Illinois 100, Ohio 100. Peaches—Indiana 40, Illinois 61, Ohio 20. Apples—The same in all the States.

SHORT-HORN SALES.

Thirty-Six Imported Cattle Sold at Lexington, Ky., for $14,665.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 10.—Thirty-six short-horn cattle, brought from the best Scotch herds by the Kentucky Importing Company, were sold here to-day for $14,495, the average price per head being $405.70, a good general average, but if anything low for good imported stock. The animals were young, nearly all half yearlings, only two bull among the lot. One male brought $700, the other $300. The highest prices were paid by A. J. Alexander, Spring Station, Ky., $1,000 for a Wild Eyes and $950 for a Kirklevington heifer. He bought five and B. B. Veach, of Louisville, six of the choicest. Fourteen head were bought by Geo. L. Danford, of Louisville. Only four head were bought out of Kentucky, one heifer, a Sillyton, calved January, this year, going to John Shanton, Monongahela City, Pa., for $155, the other three to Ohio men. These are Peach Blossom 14th, red; calved January, 1880, by Chief Officer, dam Rose Blossom, by Royal Hope, to N. B. Robinson, Sonora, with a heifer calf, for $720. See gained the second prize at the United Blueflesh show last year, the second at the Morayshire farmers' show, and the first at the Strath-bogee show, beating the first prize heifer at the royal at Aberdeen. Daisy of the Lea, roan, calved March, 1880, by Tibus; dam Daisy, tenth, by King John, grand dam; Daisy fourth, by Prince, to S. D. Corwin, Waverly, for $325. Rose of Carle, roan, calved March, 1878, by Coriolanus, dam Rose Mary by Emperor Maximilian, grand dam; Moss Rose, by young Freedom, went to J. R. Anderson for $250.

THE FINAL DROP.

A Bold Young Outlaw Hung at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, May 10.—The city has been all excitement this morning, this being the day set for the hanging of Ward McConkey, a young outlaw, for a terrible crime committed two years and a half ago. Fourteen miles from Pittsburg is located the town of McKeesport. During the winter of 1880 robberies were of so frequent occurrence in McKeesport that it was evident that they were the work of an organized gang. One of the principal sufferers was George McClure, a general hardware dealer, and after several raids on his place of business he determined to watch for the burglars and endeavor to capture them. The night following the day on which this resolution was made his place of business was again entered and several revolvers and other articles taken. McClure, accompanied by several citizens, followed the robbers, who were five in number, to Dead Man's Hollow, a lonely place about three miles from McKeesport. Here they made a stand, and McClure, who was in advance of the pursuing party, was shot and killed. One other person was wounded, and the robbers made their escape. They were recognized as Ward McConkey, "Nig" Lee, "Reddy" Baskins, Leslie, and "Sherry" Collins, young men who had earned an unenviable reputation by previous unlawful acts. A vigorous search was made for them by the county authorities, but all eluded capture save McConkey, who was identified a year and a half ago, while serving a term in one of the New York prisons for some petty offense. He was one of the youngest men ever hung in this State. His age is not exactly known, but it was not over twenty years.

At 9 a. m. people commenced to collect about the jail yard, where the execution took place. The court-house was closed last night and guards were at every entrance. The scaffold was hidden from view. McConkey slept well from midnight until daybreak this morning, and reiterated his desire that the doctors do not get hold of his body. The execution took place at 11:30 a. m.

On the scaffold he was cool and smiled at the executioners. He said he was hung because he looked like the man who had killed McClure. After the white cap was on his head he called out in a loud voice: "Good-by, all you murderers," when the drop fell, and he died almost instantly.

Sale of the "World."

NEW YORK, May 10.—Mr. Wm. Henry Hurlbert, President of the Press Publishing Company, completed to-day the transfer of the entire property of the World newspaper to Mr. Joseph Pulitzer, of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mr. Hurlbert will announce this in the World to-morrow morning, and the first number of the World under the editorial charge of Mr. Pulitzer will be issued on Friday morning. It will continue Democratic, but Mr. Pulitzer will extend and modify its local features. The price paid by Mr. Pulitzer is understood to be about $400,000.

THE docket of the Supreme Court of Boston is so crowded with divorce cases that judgments are sometimes rendered at the rate of ten in an hour. It is said that professional perjurers commonly give the testimony, swearing glibly according to instructions, and escaping exposure because, through collusion there is nobody to cross-examine them. An effort to turn all this business over to the Probate Courts, where it could receive proper attention, has failed in the Legislature.

ENGLAND.

The R. strains Imposed by Society on Affiliated Parties.

From the New York Morning Journal.
Engaged young ladies are the prescribed wall flowers of society. The vast majority of them are pretty, or they would not be engaged; but how many of them wear out their beauty in the vain hope that engagement will mean marriage, and that marriage means happiness. Every girl who goes to balls and parties, to the opera and race meetings, to Saratoga, or on one of the fashionable steamers to Europe, can tell you that should one of these doomed ones attract the attention of the other sex sufficiently to provoke an inquiry as to her name and station, it is enough to kill all interest in her to answer: "That's Miss So-and-so. She's engaged!"

As for the engaged one, if she be a faithful sweetheart, she is bound to consider herself as somebody labeled and ticketed, and laid by for future use. Knowing the irrational jealousy of man, she devotes all her thoughts to appearing above the suspicion of flirtation—or even above the suspicion of taking the remotest interest in any male human being other than he who has laid a first and second mortgage on her, and may be flourishing a free foot and a fellow to it at the very moment she is pining in the metaphorical but tangible weed of widowhood.

If she be, on the other hand, what is termed a "lively" girl, and can not understand why a young lady who is engaged should make a sort of social mummy of herself, and mixes innocently, but joyously, in the ordinary pleasures of girls of her age, she is open to the basest misconception by her own sex—and will surely incur it.

There is not a society girl who reads these lines who can not call to mind an instance in her own circle of acquaintance where the conduct of a fellow female of her coterie—innocent enough in itself—has not been stigmatized by persons of her own age and sex as "outrageous," simply because she has had the misfortune to be "engaged."

Even a wife is more free from espionage than an engaged girl. The wife, at all events, has the fact to fall back upon that she has a husband. He is supposed to be, and in the vast majority of cases is, the best judge of what his wife ought to do and say, and where she ought to go, and with whom, whether he is alone or not. Any person, therefore, who runs the risk of offending a wife, makes a certainty of offending a husband, and it is this fact which makes the society and the conversation and even the presence of young married women so delightful in American social life.

With the engaged girl, who is tied up equally as tight domestically, and infinitely more so socially, the case is very different. The mere fact that she is engaged brings down upon her an arrow from every female belt. She is, and she knows she is, the target for the very sharpest weapons of female archery. If wounded, she has no husband to fall back upon; and her instinct teaches her that the arrow which has pierced her own breast would doubly rankle in the breast of her lover if she were to call upon him to pull it out. Her only safety is in the belief that it is not there. He in the meantime, secure of the prize which he has set aside pretty much as he sets aside a box of collars—to utilize when in his judgment the proper time has come—is pretty much of a privileged character in social life. Fifth avenue and Murray Hill can bring forth any day of the week a hundred such. There is no restraint placed upon him in society. He is just as welcome to balls and parties, and the lead the german, while he is merely engaged as he would be if he had just left the paternal nest. Far sighted mothers, who know from experience that six out of ten engagements never come to any thing, do not frown upon their daughters, who, not being themselves engaged, take a delighted pleasure in showing themselves off at their best advantage before him, a pursuit in which they are greatly abetted by the knowledge or report that some other woman has had the impudence to get a lien upon him.

We understand from some of our citizens that the new cemetery company has doubled its rate for lots, and that it asks as much, if not more, than at Spring Grove cemetery, Cincinnati. Lots twenty-five feet square cost from $162.50 to $325. This seems to be an enormous price, as the owners have to keep up their lots after purchasing. These prices will be apt to encourage the project for a cemetery on a large scale, to be located near the city for the use of the county and city. Some of our citizens have long contemplated such a move, as it will not be many years before the present one is filled, and if our city continues to develop it will speedily encroach upon and surround our present little city of the dead. A few well-located lots can yet be had in the old cemetery grounds, at moderate rates, and persons who want lots can be accommodated if application be made early.

THE County Board of Supervisors, that has been in session this week, closed its labors yesterday. The total increase of the value of taxable property reported by the Assessors amounted to $219,545. The total reduction amounts to $39,520, leaving a net increase of $180,025.
